

Bush, Taylor, Johnson, Frierson take county

BY TRACI BONNEY
Although George Bush and Dan Quayle carried the presidential race in Hancock County, the national results named Bill Clinton and Al Gore the new president and vice president.

In the local race, the Bush/Quayle ticket took 6,422 votes, or 47.8 percent of the returns. The Clinton/Gore team garnered 34.6 percent with 4,651 votes; and Perot/Stockdale pulled in 17.1 percent with 2,297 votes.

Other candidates split the remaining 66 ballots cast.

Gene Taylor took the county with a comfortable 66.1 percent margin in the 5th Congressional District House race, retaining his seat in Congress. At 8,958 votes, his total was more than double that of Republican challenger Paul Harvey, who garnered 4,320 ballots. Independent Shawn O'Hara finished a weak third with 266 votes, only two percent of the race's turnout.

On the state level, Bill Johnson will succeed Vic Franckiewicz as District 46 senator. Franckiewicz had announced early this year that he did not plan to run for another term, so Johnson faced Democrat Scottie R. Cuevas and Independent Jerry Ladner Tuesday.

In Hancock County, Johnson gathered 6,844 votes, or 53.6 percent of the total. Cuevas came in second with 3,721 votes

(29.1 percent), and Ladner finished with 2,214 votes (17.3 percent). Johnson attracted another with 2,643 votes and Ladner pulled in another 500. Johnson came out on top.

Johnson commented Wednesday, "I'm just very appreciative of all the support I received. As it was before, it was a 'people race,' and the people backed me."

"I'm very proud to represent District 46. I've already gotten several calls about meetings on various pieces of legislation. I

Unit system stays

BY TRACI BONNEY

Sixty-seven percent of Hancock Countyans voted Tuesday to keep the unit system of county road maintenance.

In response to the question: "Do you want to require the county to operate under the county-wide system of road administration?", 8,593 people voted "yes" and 4,193 voted "no."

That vote secured the continued operation of county road improvements and maintenance under a single road superintendent and his staff. Had the county returned to the beat system, each of the five supervisors would have been in charge of his own road crew and responsible for the road work done in his own district.

The supervisors, who had been split in their preference of the unit or the beat system, accepted the results.

Robert Peterson, who had expressed no personal opinion in favor of either system, maintained his "the voter decides" attitude.

"I just feel that the people of Hancock County spoke and decided which system they would rather have, and now it's up to us to continue to work under that system," he commented.

Board president Mike Ladner, who had spoken in favor of the unit system, agreed.

"I think the people voted their convictions and told us which system they'd like to see the county run under. I feel that all five supervisors will continue to work under the unit system, for the advantage of all the people of Hancock County."

Peterson, Bennett win races for school board

BY TRACI BONNEY

Incumbent Cheryl Bennett retained her seat on the Hancock County school board, and L.J. "Larry" Peterson was made the board's newest member, in Tuesday's general election.

Bennett garnered 44.9 percent of the vote with 687; Michael Lee came in a close second with 572 (37.4 percent), and Kevin O'Brien Hill placed third with 272 votes (17.8 percent).

In District 1, both candidates were newcomers; incumbent Frank Miller did not run for another term. Peterson drew 629 votes (57.9 percent) to L.J. Davis's 458 (42.1 percent).

In contests for the election commission, all but one race were decided Tuesday.

James A. "Jimmie" Ladner and Jean M. Dorsey ran unopposed in Districts 1 and 4. In District 2, Keith Mitchell amassed 1,298 votes (55.6 percent) to edge out Russell Caldwell, who gained 1,036 votes (44.4 percent).

In District 5, Keith Hoda garnered 1,680 votes (61.9 percent) to defeat incumbent Betsy Noland, who received 1,032 votes (38.1 percent).

The District 3 race is still up in the air, as the three candidates split the vote into almost equal thirds: James J. Kasper received 1,131 votes (34 percent); John Y. Ladner, 1,071 (32.2 percent); and James A. Lagasse III, 1,123 votes (33.8 percent).

Kasper and Lagasse will face one another in a runoff race November 17.

Tourism promotion intent of hotel/motel tax increase

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors agreed during a workshop session Thursday, to support the Hancock County Tourism and Gaming Association in their pursuit of a 3-percent hotel/motel tax increase earmarked for the promotion of local tourism.

Bill Lady, president of the Gulf Coast Hotel and Motel Association, and Jim Henrie, president of the Hancock County Tourism and Gaming Association, requested board support of proposed legislation creating a three-county Beach Tourism Commission.

Lady said the legislation will impose an additional 3-percent tax which will be used in a marketing campaign for the entire Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Waveland pays Eaton for city sewer project

BY TRACI BONNEY

The Waveland board of aldermen agreed Tuesday to pay consultant Ray Eaton for his work on an FHMA sewer project, but withheld final acceptance of the project itself.

Eaton recommended that the board accept the project contingent upon resolution by the contractor of some minor details and resolution of asphaltting payment negotiations, but the board chose to wait until the paperwork, post-project video and payment question were finished.

The asphalt payment question concerns whether or not the city should pay the contractor for work done that was beyond the requirements of the contract specifications, Eaton explained.

After discussing options, the aldermen voted 3-0 to pay Eaton but withhold acceptance of the project. (Bob Hubbard was absent because he served as a poll worker in the general election Tuesday.)

All Souls Day

Spirit Alive starts at First Presbyterian

First Presbyterian Church of Bay St. Louis is hosting a Spirit Alive renewal mission today through November 8 at the church on Ulman Avenue. The services and activities are open to anyone who wants to attend.

This is the second Spirit Alive for the church, and will build on the foundation laid in 1991.

Last year's theme, "Jesus is Lord," stressed the relationship between Christians, Jesus and God. This year's theme, "The Person and Work of the Holy Spirit," will build on the belief that Jesus is Lord of the Christian, and will study the work and power of the Holy Spirit as friend, comforter, instructor and guide in the Christian's life. Topics for study include: "Jesus is Lord," "Jesus and the Holy Spirit," "The Person and Work of the Holy Spirit," "The Holy Spirit Empowers for Ministry," and "The Way of Holiness."

Guest ministers speaking on these topics are the Rev. Anderson Buchanan of Lake Lure,

N.C., and the Rev. James Logan of Charlotte, N.C.

The Rev. Richard Jones, pastor, and local mission coordinator Jay Cavode encourage others in the area to join the church for the four-day renewal. Activities include men's and women's coffees, a men's breakfast and a ladies' luncheon Saturday, and evening services today through Sunday.

The event will start with a pot luck fellowship dinner this evening, and will end after the regular church services Sunday with a pot luck lunch.

Nursery services are being provided.

Those interested in participating may call Rev. Jones at 466-2926 or Cavode at 452-2212 for more information.

The Spirit Alive renewal mission is sponsored by Presbyterian and Reformed Renewal Ministries International, a recognized organization that is affiliated with the Presbyterian church.

St. Anthony Padua Mission will celebrate the Tridentine Latin Mass 6 p.m. Sunday, November 8 at the Holiday Inn — Airport, Hwy. 49, Gulfport. Confessions and the Holy Rosary will begin at 5:30 p.m.

The public is invited to participate. For more information contact Mrs. John Meehan, 452-9635.

Clerk's office open Saturday

trict 3. Republican James Kasper will face Democrat Jay Lagasse. The office will be open from 8 a.m. until noon.

ST. ANN AND ST. JOHN NEWS

Thoughts for meditation:
 It isn't the load that weighs us down—it's the way we carry it.

Father, thank You that You carry my burdens for me if I will give them to You. Give me the courage today to lay them at Your feet—and help me not to pick them up again tomorrow! Amen.

To the extent that You did to one of these brothers of Mine, even the least of them, you did it to Me.

Matt. 25:40
 Father, how hard it is in our busy lives to take time for each other, to show kindness. Help me find the time and to know in that moment that I am reaching out to You. Amen.

God's way may be harder for you, but it will be easier on you.

H. Hanson
 I have told you all this so that you will have peace of heart and mind. Here on earth you will have many trials and sorrows; but cheer up, for I have overcome the world.

John 16:33
 CYO members will meet in the parish hall at 7 p.m. today for their regular meeting. Karen Williams, religious coordinator, urges all members to attend this important meeting.

First Friday of the month, Nov. 6, the 8:30 a.m. Holy Mass will be followed by Adoration of the Holy Eucharist until Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament. Everyone is encouraged to attend.

Father Kelly will be visiting the shut-ins today and Friday, Nov. 6.

Boxes have been placed in the rear of both St. Ann Church and St. John's for contributions of canned goods, etc. to fill Thanksgiving baskets for the needy of the parish. Chairman Marion Traub, who has been working on this project for a number of years, is asking everyone to be as generous as possible because the list is growing longer each year. Cash donations to buy chickens or turkeys are also accepted and appreciated.

CCD and Confirmation classes are held on Sundays from 9 to 10:15 a.m. in the parish hall. It is our duty as parents to see that our children who attend public schools attend these classes. Please don't let them down.

A recent obituary announced the death of Joe January.

His nephew, John A. January, is still alive, and reports that many people are confusing him with his late uncle.

ASRM test stand construction begins

Construction has begun on the Advanced Solid Rocket Motor (ASRM) test stand at NASA's John C. Stennis Space Center. A Mississippi company, Dunn Construction Company Inc. of Jackson, was awarded the NASA contract Oct. 13 to construct the test stand.

Under the $9,766,100 contract, the company and its subcontractors will build the test stand, bunkers, signal conditioning building, motor conditioning building and equipment storage building.

At its peak, the operation is expected to create 100 construction jobs. The test stand is scheduled for completion in October 1993.

"Starting construction on the test stand represents a major step in the ASRM test program at Stennis Space Center," said Lon Miller, local ASRM project manager.

The ASRM will replace the Redesignated Solid Rocket Motors now used on the Space Shuttle. The highly improved booster will give the shuttle a projected 12,000-pound (5,400-kilogram) extra lifting capability and will improve the shuttle's overall safety, reliability and performance.

Upon completion, the test stand will be used to horizontally test fire the advanced Solid Rocket Motor, which produces about 3.5 million pounds (1.6 million kilograms) of thrust. During the firings, test technicians and engineers will obtain 1,000 individual measurements that include temperature, stress and strain.

will be getting my calendar and agenda together in the next several days.

"Although I don't officially take office until January, I think it's wise to get an early start and get as much accomplished as I can before I go to Jackson."

Democrat Harry L. Frierson Jr. is House District 93's first representative. Frierson carried all four counties in the newly created district, amassing 1,880 in Hancock County, 1,199 in Harrison, 10 in Stone and 489 in Pearl River.

Republican Hester Plauché ran second with 1,413 votes in Hancock County; 1,088 in Harrison; 249 in Pearl River and 4 in Stone.

Independent Hilda Bourg polled 1,599 votes in Hancock County; 578 in Harrison; 126 in Pearl River and no votes in Stone.

Frierson said, "I want to thank God and the people who voted for me. I asked the people for their votes; they gave them to me. Now it's my turn to do the job."

"I also want to thank my family and the friends who got out there and helped me in the campaign, because I sure didn't do this by myself."

"I'm going to work hard, very hard, to improve the overall quality of life for the people in my district."

In House District 122, the unopposed incumbent, J.P. Compretta, gathered 7,484 votes.

arose during Eaton's explanation and recommendation. He said he had budgeted a certain amount, but the project came in about $150,000 under budget. Alderman Stan Weidman asked how the extra money could be used.

Eaton told the board they could use the funds for other sewer extensions, provided the Farmers Home Administration approved the extension.

During the discussion of the project, Weidman asked if the roads that were excavated for the laying of the sewer lines were repaved to their pre-project condition. Eaton said as far as he knows they were, and some roads were restored to better condition.

Weidman urged anyone in Wards 1 or 4 who still had road problems in their neighborhoods to call him, Barbara Rappold or Mayor Stella Frilot.

OTHER BUSINESS

The board unanimously approved the previous month's meetings minutes and a request to install a street light on Lafitte Drive in a darkened area of the street.

The bills were approved 2-1, with Weidman dissenting after questioning the method in which paint for the work on City Hall was purchased.

Weidman said he thought all the paint could have been bought at one time. He also claimed that the painting project was never discussed in a board meeting, and voiced his concern that the way the project was handled did not reflect well on the board's governing abilities.

presently spend $1.4 million per year on tourism promotion. This figure includes an approximate $400,000 in office and staff expenses.

Henrie explained the tax will be used to fund Hancock's part in the three-county effort.

"Our assets don't recognize county boundaries," Henrie added. "Together, marketing will be less costly and more effective."

Lady said the legislation will also request that each county hire a representative to work on the commission, to be paid an estimated $25,000 per year.

The supervisors agreed to pass a resolution of support for the designated tourism tax. They said they could not commit to the salaried position at this time.

Lady commented that the legislation needed for the implementation of the funding and proposed commission would be at least a year in coming.

"Now that the vote is settled, we'll just have to get together and sit down and make it work. I never did fight the unit system, you understand. I just felt we could get more for our money under the beat system."

"I ran on the promise that I would do my best to make sure the county got the most out of its money, and I thought the beat system could do that for us."

Wilmer Seymour, a unit system proponent, said, "I'm proud the county stayed in the unit system. I think the unit system can work."

Alton "Dolph" Kellar, a vocal supporter of the beat system, said, "I have no comment. The people have spoken; I'll accept that."

Saturday is the big day for the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club's Chili Cooking Contest.

There will be one dozen teams trying to be the top chili cookers for this big fund-raiser.

The Rotary Club will use the proceeds from this benefit for community services.

There will be a donation of $3 per person for the event which will be from 3 to 6 p.m. at Christ Episcopal's Virginia Hall, 912 S. Beach, Bay St. Louis.

The public will decide who the champion will be. There are 12 team captains, Dr. Frank Conway and staff, Tony Meeks and Medical Rehab staff, John Mason, Dusty Rhodes, Don Henderson, Curtis Colson, myself, Jay Fleuriel, Paul McElveen, David Treutel Jr., Clay Wagner, and Conrad Mauffray.

All the team captains are bragging about how they are going to win this contest, and the only way they can win is to have a lot of folks vote for their chili.

I know there will be one batch of chili that tastes very good; well, to me anyway, as Jane has been busy getting four gallons of it cooked for my team. We expect to win. Not that I am trying to influence your vote. Ha!

Tickets will be available at the door from Bay Rotary members at $3 per person.

I hope to see you at the chili contest.

The final week of the regular season in high school football will be Friday night.

Play will continue after Friday for the much improved Bay High Tigers (8-1), as they will continue in district playoffs after finishing second in the District VIII Class 3A conference.

Bay High will close the regular season on Friday when they journey to Long Beach (2-6), to tangle with the Bearcats.

Tiger head mentor Rocky Gaudin has the Tiger team roaring this season, as well as the fans.

Long Beach does not have an impressive record this season, but they can be dangerous and Bay High needs to be thinking about Friday's game and not the playoffs, which are to begin the following week.

Bay High's team, coaching staff, administrators, students and supporters all need to be commended for a fine performance this season.

The support for the Tigers has been good for the Tigers and it is hoped the Bearcat stadium will be full of Tiger supporters Friday.

The runner-up spot in high school football for Hancock County will be on the line Friday night in Rock-A-Chaw stadium.

St. Stanislaus plays host to the Hawks of Hancock High.

It has been a disappointing year for both the Hawks (3-6) and Rocks (0-9).

I cannot remember the last time St. Stanislaus was 0-9 in football. It also has been ages since Hancock's Hawks have been 3-6.

This should be a good game, and either team can win this one, or, it may even be a tie.

The two teams played each other in Hawk stadium last season in almost freezing temperatures with a below freezing chill factor.

Hancock came out on top by a 36-16 score and captured second place in conference.

I am sure Hawk coach Irvin Favre and Rock coach Ken Lyons will have their respective squads ready for the game.

I am hoping that Rock-A-Chaw stadium will be overflowing with spectators, as players from both teams have been doing their best in this rebuilding season.

Bay St. Louis has begun work on the parking lot next to the Walking Track in front of Hancock Medical Center and there are a lot of happy folks about, especially those of us who use the facility.

Mayor Eddie Favre reports the ground work is now in process prior to asphalt for the parking spaces.

The Walking Track is one of the most popular areas of the community and is used by hundreds of residents every day.

Many of us are concerned about our health and exercise is important to us.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Rev. Hamilton reflects on tenure

To the Editor,

Over these past three years it has been my deep and abiding privilege to serve the Kingdom of God with the people of this community. They have accepted me into their midst, supported me in leadership, challenged me to grow, and loved me all the while. Truly then these small words of "thanks" are inadequate, but I had to write them anyway.

The civic farewell on Oct. 18 and the church farewell on Nov. 1 both let me know in no uncertain terms how much you appreciate me and—though reluctantly—want to send me forth to share God's word near and far. Your words, your generous gifts, our hugs, your smiles, your tears... all were seen with my eyes, recorded in my memory, and emblazoned into my heart. As the prophet Isaiah says, "I could no more forget you than a mother forget her child!"

Thank you for all you have been for me. I wish I could take a lifetime with each one and say it better... but time is better served differently. Know, however, that I will return as often as it is wise and draw from your spirit and joy. You can believe that!

May the God who brought us together keep us always as one people, watch over us, and guide us... until we all shall go home.

Rev. Ken Hamilton, SVD

Foster children in need of Christmas presents

Dear Editor,

Even though Thanksgiving is "right around the corner," we at the Department of Human Services are turning our thoughts to Christmas. The number of abused and neglected children in our county continues to rise as does the number of children placed in foster care. Unfortunately, the state provides no financial help to buy Christmas presents for "our" children. We are asking for your help to assure that these special children have presents on Christmas morning. Any donation large or small will be greatly appreciated.

If you need additional information, contact us at 467-4100 or 467-9465.

Thank you!

IN CONGRESS

By Rep. Gene Taylor

American taxpayer finally gets priority on surplus fire equipment

For the first time in decades, American towns, cities and counties will be given priority over foreign governments that have requested surplus military construction and fire equipment from the Department of Defense.

The Fiscal Year 1993 Defense Authorization bill, which is expected to be passed by Congress and signed into law by the President within the next several days, contains a provision that will reverse the wholesale give-away of surplus road graders, bulldozers, dump trucks, water tankers, crash trucks, rescue trucks, ambulances, hook and ladder units and miscellaneous firefighting equipment to foreign governments.

As a majority of south Mississippians are aware, I have been pushing to allow our nation's county supervisors, city councilmen and governors to have first dibs on surplus military equipment for more than two years. Shortly after being elected to Congress, I was shocked to learn that there are over 40 countries that received first crack at heavy surplus military equipment.

Since then, I have authorized several surplus amendments and worked with dozens of Congressmen and women. Throughout the years, some of my efforts to change the law have been successful, while other attempts have failed. This month, the persistence finally paid off.

My most recent attempt began in June of this year, when I teamed up with Senator Richard Shelby of Alabama. Without Senator Shelby's keen personal interest in this issue, the measure would have undoubtedly been put off for yet another year. Sen. Shelby, however, was able to skillfully steer the amendment through the Senate House Armed Services Committee, the full Senate and retain the surplus language in the Defense Authorization conference report. Sen. Shelby should be commended for his outstanding leadership. Without his guidance and direction the American taxpayer would certainly have had to wait until next year for a vote on the surplus measure.

"This measure keeps military surplus equipment—equipment like fire trucks, tractors and generators—in America for distribution to the towns and cities around the country that can best utilize it. At a time when federal aid to state and local governments has been sharply cut back, this equipment gives communities an opportunity to acquire expensive heavy equipment at almost no cost," said Senator Shelby.

For more than three decades the Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 and the Arms Export Control Act have allowed the U.S. to give away more than a billion dollars worth of surplus heavy construction and fire equipment to foreign governments—surplus equipment paid for by the American taxpayer.

Now that these laws have been corrected, the U.S. will no longer give away, repair and pay delivery costs of virtually unlimited amounts of surplus equipment. Additionally, America will have first choice instead of the leftovers.

FROM THE SENATE

By Senator Trent Lott

Lott appointed to committee on reform of Congress

U.S. Senator Trent Lott has been appointed to a joint Senate and House Committee that will study and make recommendations on reforming Congress.

The 28-member special committee will include 14 Senators and 14 House members. The committee will be equally divided between Republicans and Democrats. Lott is the only Mississippian appointed to the committee.

"I am very honored to be asked to work on this project," Lott said. "Over the last few years, Congress has faced scandals and had problems dealing with important legislation. I am hopeful that this review will give us the opportunity to assess the institution and make it more representative and better."

"I plan to go into the meetings with an open mind to whatever ideas are offered that can make the Congress more effective," Lott said. "I also plan to have a list of my own ideas for making Congress more efficient and effective."

The committee was created by H. Con. Res. 192 to "recommend improvements in the organization and operation with a view toward strengthening the effectiveness of the Congress," according to Senate Republican Leader Bob Dole, who asked Lott to serve on the committee.

In addition, the temporary committee is expected to recommend reforms in the size, structure and jurisdiction of House and Senate committees and subcommittees, as well as scheduling, legislation and staffing.

The committee will also make recommendations on the relationship between the House and Senate, the Congress and the executive branch and the Congress and various agencies. "Congress has grown to an almost unmanageable size," Lott said. "There are redundancies and duplications, outdated practices and procedures and there is too great a concentration of power in too few people. I hope that we can take a long hard look at all that in the course of our review."

"I hope that we can address everything from campaign finance reform to the size of staff to the cost of operating the Congress to the way that we do business," he said. "I'm looking forward to working on these problems. It is a great challenge, it's a great responsibility and it's a great opportunity."

The committee is scheduled to issue a report on its study and recommendations by December 31, 1993. The first meeting of the committee will be sometime after Nov. 15.

What role do you feel the media played in this election?

"I think the media has been pretty unbiased. I feel the media has done a good job of covering on the national level."

Agencies sought to provide emergency food and shelter

Special to the Echo
Approximately $13,650 has been made available to assist the needy through the Emergency Food and Shelter National Board Program, according to Jay Fleuret, president of the St. Vincent de Paul Society St. Clare Conference.

Non-profit agencies in Hancock County that wish to provide these services may submit applications Thursday, Nov. 12, at Coast Electric Power Association, Hwy. 90 and Main, Bay St. Louis.

Agency representatives may appeal for funds to a local emergency food and shelter board at the CEPA office at 9:30 a.m. All board members, past and present, are encouraged to attend the meeting.

The local board has been set up to distribute $13,650 in federal funds in 1992. Agencies currently providing — or which are capable of providing — shelter, food and supportive services for homeless and other needy people are eligible to apply for the funds.

The program, which supplements and expands efforts to feed and shelter the homeless, is one of 18 related programs created by the Stewart B. McKinney Homeless Assistance Act, signed into law in 1987 and re-authorized in November 1988.

The local board consists of representatives of the United Way, Catholic Social Services (St. Vincent de Paul), American Red Cross, Community Action Agency and others.

For more information, call Fleuret at 467-7846.

Amtrak to request funds from Congress

Under a new law, Amtrak must begin daily passenger train service between New Orleans and Mobile within a year.

However, Amtrak says it does not have the money. Last week, President Bush signed a bill that requires the train company to start the passenger line within 12 months. Amtrak spokesman Debbie Hare said the company wants to comply, but will have to ask Congress for money.

Hare said Amtrak, a federally subsidized company, does not have the money in this year's budget to operate the route.

The $331 million in federal money the company received this year did not include funds for the passenger line. The law the president signed calls for Amtrak to pay 55 percent of the operating cost, while the three states involved — Mississippi, Louisiana and Alabama — pay the rest.

United Way hosts midpoint breakfast

The Harrison County division of the United Way of South Mississippi will hold a Midpoint Breakfast for campaign volunteers at 7:30 a.m. today at the Great Southern Club.

David Ratcliffe, president and chief executive officer of Mississippi Power Company, will be the keynote speaker. Campaign divisions will give progress reports; loaned executives will be introduced; and achievement awards will be presented to Pacesetter companies.

DuPont, the Sun Herlad, Peoples Bank, Coast Electric Power Association, Hancock Bank, South Central Bell and Mississippi Power Company are the sponsors of the breakfast.

Dolls, dolls, dolls

LeBreton collection represents world travels

By Margaret J. Williamson

A visit to Ethel LeBreton's home on Golf Club Drive in Diamondhead is every little girl's dream and fantasy.

Her extraordinary collection of over 500 dolls are fashioned of porcelain, vinyl, celluloid and composition.

At first her intent was to collect only character dolls, but as she and her husband, Alvin, traveled throughout the world, she became interested in many others.

Lots of them were made in the countries they visited; therefore, all the ones from hood such as Mother Goose, Little Red Riding Hood, The Three Bears and Goldilocks, Snow-White, the Seven Dwarfs, the Wicked Stepmother and Prince Charming, Tom Sawyer, Huck Finn and Becky.

Remember the Little Women with Marmie and Laurie, Dor-

Monroe, Gary Cooper and Grace Kelly dressed for High Noon;

Gone with the Wind's Scarlett and Rhett and Mammy; there's Liberace, his piano and candelabra; several of Elvis in gorgeous different attires; Laurel and Hardy, many sizes of Shirley Temple, Nancy Reagan in her inaugural gown.

There's Shakespeare and Mary Hathaway, the Gerber baby, a new-born babe, so life-like you have to touch.

How could anyone forget some of the sports greats? A Babe Ruth doll purchased at an auction for a fraction of its worth today.

The Amish family, a Christmas Carol with Tiny Tim atop his daddy's shoulders, Mrs. Crockett and the infamous Scrooge;

The first presidents, Washington, Lincoln, etc.—their likenesses are incredible.

Ethel's collection includes her proud acquisition of the Gambia "Christopher Columbus commemorative doll," when his sailing ships' replicas were in port in New Orleans. The minute detail of his facial features, hair, and custom garments are fascinating.

As you try and take in all of the magic you realize that there is also a doll house within the doll's house, and inside are every piece of miniature furniture and accessory you can imagine.

Below sit Grandma and Grandpa, exactly like you would want to remember them.

You can't begin to decide what dolls would be your favorites since they all are so precious, but Camelot's Genevieve and Cinderella in her glass slippers seem to run a close tie with Ethel.

Dolls, dolls are everywhere, and since their special room with custom cabinets has reached its capacity, you'll find many in other parts of this lovely home.

I might add that a touch of Ethel's true talent for needlepoint, simply beautiful work, abounds in every room.

The latest dolls, beautiful in their Oriental gowns, were brought back from an extensive trip to China and will have their place.

The collector's most prized possession is a gift from her only daughter, a framed collage of pictures of Ethel at various stages of her childhood, surrounded by her dolls, titled "Ethel's Dolls." Need we say more?

Harko cast in musical

Albion College sophomore Debora A. Harko portrayed Gay Wellington in Albion College's recent production of the award-winning comedy "You Can't Take It With You."

"You Can't Take It With You" has remained a favorite with audiences since it opened on Broadway in 1936 and won the Pulitzer Prize. The comedy tells the tale of rejecting the money grubbing standards of a mundane existence and how the completely irresponsible, completely captivating Sycamore family have decided to enjoy life. The substance of the play survives as a charade against drudgery and toil in a world that can, instead, be enjoyed.

Harko, an economics and art major, is a 1991 graduate of Grand Haven Senior High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harko of Diamondhead.

Albion College is a private, coeducational, liberal arts college located in the south central Michigan town of the same name.

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire
Caire

Canadian Bacon, one of my favorites, is actually not bacon at all, but the boneless loin of pork, cured and smoked. It is equally at home at a special occasion dinner as at the breakfast table, along with your eggs and toast or whatever.

Except, of course, for the fact that it is somewhat on the pricey side! But, to balance the ledger, there's almost no waste at all to it, just a smidgen of fat edging the rosy-pink of the meat. A roll or section of Canadian Bacon is delicious baked for a half hour or so in a moderate oven, glazed as you would a ham, with brown sugar, mustard and wine and studded with cloves.

Canadian Bacon is also delicious sliced thin and broiled and makes quite tasty sandwiches as well. Many of us are familiar with Canadian Bacon in one of its elegant guises as a base under poached eggs and Hollandaise in that famed brunch dish.

You can even buy Canadian Bacon, sliced to order at the deli counters, already baked. When I ask a few friends for cocktails and am not in the mood to cook a meal afterwards, I like to set out a tray of thin-sliced Canadian Bacon with Creole and other mustards and relishes, accompanied by a basket of assorted small hot rolls for a quick snack.

And, at times I bestir myself a bit more and offer:

CANADIAN BACON

WITH ORANGE AND ONION

1 lb. Canadian Bacon, sliced 1/4-inch thick, so as to have 12 slices in all
6 thin onion slices
6 thin orange slices, rind removed

2 tsp. sugar
1 Tbsp. cornstarch
1 cup orange juice
1 orange, cut in sections

2 tsp. grated orange rind
2 cups cooked rice.
Lightly grease a shallow baking dish, or spray with cooking spray. Spread the cooked rice over the bottom. Arrange six slices of the bacon in the dish, and top each slice with an onion slice, then an orange slice, then a second slice of the bacon. Pour over the mixture a little orange juice (so that it doesn't dry out). Distribute the grated rind and orange sections atop.

Bake in a slow oven (300 degrees) for 20 to 30 minutes. Meanwhile, mix together the sugar and cornstarch, add the remaining orange juice and cook the mixture over a slow fire until thick and clear, stirring so that it doesn't stick to the pan. Pour this over the mixture in the baking dish and serve. (4 to 6 servings). You may, of course, use ham slices or chicken breast slices in this dish instead, if you prefer.

Spotting a con artist

By Public Relations Officer Don Oeso and Crime Prevention Specialist Jim Clark
Although any person can become the victim of a con artist, elderly people are their favorite targets. Con artists look for people who are open and trusting of others, and usually, but not always, prefer to prey on someone who lives alone.

This particular type of criminal is seldom violent, but is usually an excellent actor with a good understanding of basic psychology and an open, friendly manner.

He's the fellow who offers you something for next to nothing, wants to enter you in a contest where you can win millions of dollars, or can give you the last chance at a great deal if you're willing to act today—but he always wants cash, he's got to have it right now, and he's usually going to ask you not to tell anyone.

He may be seeking you some type of service, such as home improvement work or pest control. He may want to sell you some kind of investment property, enroll you in a work-at-home program or correspondence course, or tell you he's locating missing heirs of one of your distant relatives.

Con artists and their accomplices often pose as city inspectors, bank examiners or other legitimate authorities, so it is best to ask for identification.

Investments are particularly likely arenas for scams, mostly because recent technology has made it easier to use computers, special WATS lines, and 1-800 numbers to increase an appearance of respectability.

Usually, the investment involves a franchise in which the investor pays for equipment and supplies. Another possibility is a distributorship which has more hidden costs for the investor or involves products that are never delivered, are defective or are placed in a poor distribution area.

Financial planning experts may turn out to be frauds, and items described as rare, appreciable commodities may actually be worth little more than the value of their raw materials.

Other precautions that help keep you from being conned include careful investigation before signing a contract or investing money, refusing to give cash to strangers or to discuss your personal finances with them, and being suspicious of any deal that offers an unusually fast or high monetary return.

Second opinions and estimates are also a possible preventative measure. The con artist won't want to wait while you get a second estimate on the cost of terming your home or widening your driveway and will probably seek another victim.

If you think you've been victimized, report it as soon as possible, because these criminals are extremely mobile. Part of their ability to run their schemes depends on being gone by the time victims are ready to complain.

For more information on this and other crime prevention topics, contact the Crime Prevention Unit at the Bay St. Louis Police Department.

Regular season finale

Tigers face Bearcats on way to playoffs

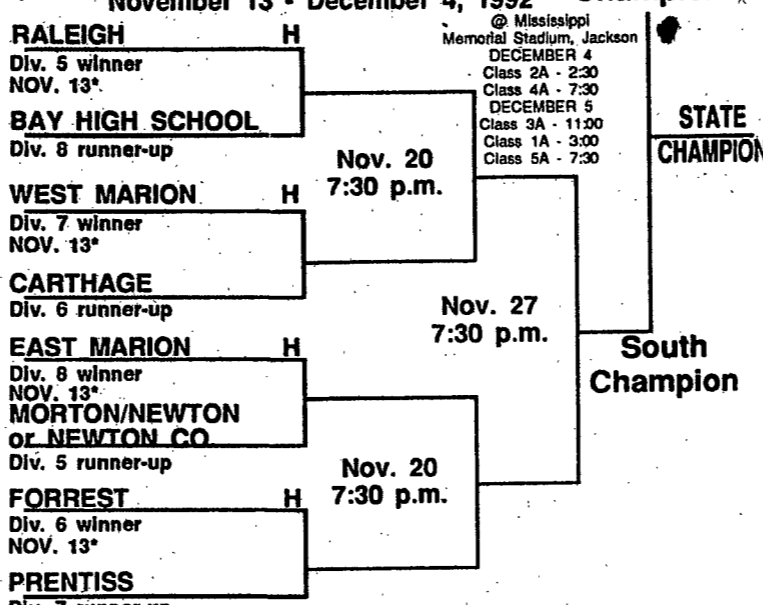

BY RANDY PONDER

The Bay High Tigers have one last obstacle to cross before heading into the state playoffs, 5-1 in district action.

"No matter who you play or what your record is, every game is important," Gaudin stated.

1992 Football Championship
5A, 4A, 3A, 2A and A
November 13 - December 4, 1992

- 1.] First round - winner of the Division.
- 2.] During each round through the North/South Championship, the team that has played a fewer number of home games will be designated the home team.
- 3.] If both teams have played an equal amount of home games, the home site will be determined by the higher number of the opponents' divisions for the 1992 season.
- 4.] If the teams from the same division play for the North/South Championship, and 2 and 3 cannot determine a home site, the winner of the division will be the home team.
- 5.] State Championship - North team will be Home Team.

a Friday night trip to Lance Lumpkin Stadium to face the Long Beach Bearcats.

Coach Rocky Gaudin's Tigers clinched a spot in the District 8, Class 3A playoffs last week with a 14-7 win over the Poplarville Hornets. The first round of those playoffs will begin at 7:30 p.m. at Raleigh on Friday, November 13.

But according to Gaudin, there has been very little talk of the playoffs this week. Instead, Bay High is concentrating on preparing for the Bearcats.

Long Beach is going through a rebuilding year with a new head coach. Their record is 2-6, after a loss to St. Martin 28-20 last week.

Bay High is 8-1 overall and where we were in my first year," Gaudin said. "They are going through a rebuilding process, but have been very competitive in virtually every game they have played."

Last week, quarterback Sam Sheppard hooked up with Marcel Whavers on two long touchdown passes as the Tigers won their fifth consecutive game. Sheppard has now thrown nine TD passes, Whavers has caught six of them. Xavier Lewis has the other three.

Bay High's only loss was a 10-7 setback to district champion East Marion on a last minute field goal.

"We enter the final week of the regular season with great pride in the fact that three of our squads, (varsity, 9th grade, and 7th & 8th grade), will be involved in post season play," Gaudin stated.

"I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone involved in helping us to be successful this year, including my assistant coaches Walt Esslinger, Joe Shaw, Stace McRaney and also Clevon Williams. And thanks to all those great Tiger parents and fans for their very kind words of congratulations last week. We hope we can continue to make them proud of us and our program."

Game time in Long Beach is 7:30 p.m.

Bay Jr. Tigers in Blue Devil Classic

The Bay Junior High School 7th and 8th grade team will play D'Iberville in the Blue Devil Classic at Carriere Saturday night, after defeating Pearl River Central 22-6 last week.

"This may be our most improved squad this year," said Coach Rocky Gaudin.

The team is 4-4 overall and 1-3 in conference play.

Kickoff time will be 5:30.

Hancock's Bobby Doyle (42), a freshman defensive back for the Pearl River Community College Wildcats, wraps up a ball carrier during the Cats defensive attack. The undefeated Wildcats (9-0) posted a perfect 5-0 South Division record Thursday with a 37-16 victory over the Southwest Bears.

Perfect season

Pearl River Wildcats have one more shot to remain undefeated

Pearl River Community College has one huge test left before recording a perfect 10-0 season.

Mississippi Delta, sporting a 6-3 record and the state's second best offensive unit, will take on the Wildcats at 7 p.m. Saturday in the Dobie Holden Stadium on the PRC campus.

Pearl River, undefeated and ranked fifth in the nation, locked up the South Division crown a couple of weeks ago. Delta, however, lost to Northwest and Itawamba, and finished third in the North title chase.

"They are as good as any team we have played this year," said Willie Coats, the PRC head coach. "They have speed, a lot of talent, and a balanced team."

The Trojans are ranked second behind Northwest in points scored per game (32) and total offense. Pearl River is next in both categories with 29 points per game average and 383 yards. Delta is averaging 387 yards per contest.

Pearl River's attack is based on a rushing game which leads the state with a 273-yard average. Delta has a more balanced attack with 202 yards normally coming through the air and 185 on the ground.

During the past couple of weeks, PRC spotted Co-Lin 14 points and then Southwest seven before taking control in the second half. "All you have to do is to look at the scores," said Coats. "When the Trojans get on a roll, they explode."

This year's Wildcats can become only the second team in the college's history to post a 10-0 regular season record. The 1961 Wildcats racked up 10 straight wins by scoring 446 points while allowing only 47. That year the Wildcats won the state title and a number-one national ranking.

Mississippi Delta defeated PRC for the state championship in 1973 and was the only team to blemish the 1953 Wildcats perfect record. The last game of that year the two teams played to a 20-20 tie and PRC finished with a 9-0-1 record.

PRC fullback Chris Ryan needs 164 yards to break Michael Toefield's 1989 standard of 1,307 yards. He has rushed for 1,144 yards and 12 touchdowns. James Holloway has rushed for 541 yards and Dayna Hall has netted 405 yards.

Kicker Brandon Murray has kicked 27 of 33 PAT's and eight of 10 field goals. His 44-yarder against Southwest last week was the longest in PRC's history.

Brian Sellers, Reginald Gaddis, Chris Monroe, and Cordez Vaughn are leading the Wildcat defense which is listed fifth in the state. Mississippi Delta ranks a close sixth.

"Our two teams are very close on paper," said Coats. "The only difference is we have won the close games this year."

Hawks, Rocks to face in season ender

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws and Hancock High Hawks will vie for the county runner-up spot in high school football Friday night.

The game is to be played in the Rock-A-Chaw stadium with kickoff set for 7:30 p.m.

Both head coaches, Irvin Favre of Hancock and Ken Lyons of St. Stanislaus, said they feel the game should be close and could go either way.

It has been a rebuilding year for both Stanislaus and Hancock, with both squads young and light in weight. Hancock has 21 juniors on its team while Stanislaus depends on a lot of sophomores and juniors with a few senior leaders.

Lyons and Favre say their respective teams are the lightest they have had in years, about the same speed (not too fast) and both squads have struggled this season.

Hancock, 3-6, started the season with three victories in their first four games and have lost five in a row. Stanislaus, 0-9, has been close in a few games, but hasn't put up a victory as yet.

Favre said, "Our team has played hard this season and hasn't given up, and we have a lot of respect for Stanislaus."

Lyons stated, "We have kept up our team spirit all season, and morale has been very good this week during practice."

"We will be trying to end the drought," Lyons added.

Favre said, "We have worked hard this season and feel both teams are close in all aspects and will be ready to play and win."

Both coaches indicated they had normal injuries during the season, some bruises, indicating that should not be a factor in the game.

Both indicate having similarity of the type of play for each team.

The young players both for Stanislaus and Hancock lacked experience this season.

They could move the ball on offense for long sustained drives, and deny themselves of a score by losing the ball many times on fumbles with the goal line in sight.

Both coaches are hoping for the continued support from their respective schools for the game Friday night.

The Rock-A-Chaw stadium is located at the corner of Bookter and Neacase Avenue, Bay St. Louis.

Fishing tributary creeks best for Autumn bass

Bass anglers know one of the most reliable places to locate autumn bass is in the backs of tributary creeks, but not many fishermen realize why these are such good spots.

"It all depends on baitfish migrations," explains Texas guide and Johnson Outboards Pro Staff member Randy Fite. "No matter what time of year you're fishing, if you locate baitfish, you'll find bass."

"In the fall months, the baitfish move into the creeks, and the bass follow."

The reason baitfish make such a migration, explains Fite, is to take advantage of cooler, better oxygenated water. During the summer, lakes gradually become warmer and warmer and oxygen levels generally decrease. By late summer this can become critical.

"The coolest water will be in those tributaries that have a slight current," notes Fite, "and naturally, moving water like this will have more oxygen."

Both gizzard and threadfin shad will leave the main lakes in late summer and migrate into the tributary creeks in search of these better conditions, and eventually, they'll move all the way to the backs of the creeks.

"The bass make the same migration a few days behind the baitfish, and stay there as long as the bait does."

Because of the improved water conditions, the Johnson pro continues, both baitfish and bass are more active. The bass begin feeding heavily, as if in preparation for the approaching winter, and readily hit artificial lures.

"This is why fast-moving lures, such as spinnerbaits and crankbaits, are such good lure choices," says Fite. "The bass are striking by impulse at lures that come anywhere close to them."

The autumn feeding frenzy can continue for several weeks, according to Fite, but begins to slow down when weather fronts have cooled the water and forced the baitfish out into the deeper channels. The shad gradually migrate out of the creeks and may school over deeper structure near the mouth of the tributary.

"Again, the bass follow the migrating baitfish," says Fite, "but this time, as the water gets colder, the bass become less and less active. They concentrate in large schools near the shad, but finding them is much more difficult."

"This is why autumn fishing is probably some of the most enjoyable fishing of the year. It is not really difficult to locate the bass because you know they're going to be in the tributary creeks, and if you throw a spinnerbait or crankbait around heavy cover, you'll get strikes."

Fite suggests fishing tributaries on the upper end of a lake early in the fall because these are more shallow and will cool first. Gradually, as the season progresses, he advises moving to other deeper tributaries on the lower end of the lake.

To help keep your outboard motor running smoothly all season, OMC recommends the use of OMC Engine Tuner.

Available in a 13-ounce spray can, OMCJ Engine Tuner removes gum and varnish build-up and cleans excessive carbon deposits from rings pistons and ports when sprayed through the carburetor of a running motor. It is available at most Johnson and Evinrude outboard dealers.

College Football Highlights

For November 7

Two of this week's top games feature teams we haven't had much reason to write about in recent years—teams that have changed our minds this season.

We can't remember the last time we considered picking Notre Dame to lose to a team that had a combined record of 13-31 in its previous four seasons, but that's the case this week when the Irish host Boston College. The Eagles, trying to keep pace with Syracuse in the Big East, proved that their presence in the Top 20 was no fluke when they stunned Penn State three weeks ago, 35-32. Their turnaround isn't just a coincidence: Third-year head coach Tom Coughlin was BC's quarterback coach in the early 1980s, and his star pupil was one Doug Flutie.

The last time BC and ND met was five years ago to the day—Nov. 7, 1987—when Notre Dame won at home, 32-25. This year the result should be similar, though we're a lot less confident of our pick than we were in '87.

The University of Kansas has also undergone a metamorphosis, showing the first signs last season, when the Jayhawks finished 6-5 after an abysmal combined 9-33-2 from 1987 to '90. This year Kansas is challenging perennial powerhouse Nebraska in the Big Eight conference, and on Saturday they meet in Lincoln. Close games aren't a recent feature of this longstanding series: The last time Kansas won was a 23-13 victory in 1968 (when the 'Hawks went to the Orange Bowl), and the last five times they've played, the Jayhawks have lost to the Cornhuskers by an average of 42 points, including a 59-23 pounding last year. This one should be much closer, but we're sticking with Nebraska at home.

In the Pac-10, USC visits Stanford. The Trojans dominated the Cardinals until last year, when Stanford won, 24-21, and this season the teams are close in the Top 20 as well as in the conference. Though it's almost a tossup, we like SC.

The forecasting average? How nice of you to ask. Through games of Oct. 24 we're 1,148-369, which computes to .757. We're not complaining.

NFL Forecast for Sunday and Monday Nov. 8-9

*Buffalo, 31—Pittsburgh, 30

The Bills have won the last three times they've met, but the Steelers are now among the AFC's best, and we might pick this near-tossup a different way by the time the playoffs begin.

*Chicago, 28—Cincinnati, 10

These two teams haven't played since 1989, when the Bears won 17-14. Despite its sharp, young coach, Dave Shula, Cincy is going nowhere, while Chicago wants to stay in the playoff hunt.

Dallas, 27—Detroit, 20

The Lions have won three straight from the Cowboys, including last year's 38-6 rout in an NFC divisional playoff, but this season it's as if Detroit has awakened from the dream.

*Denver, 24—N.Y. Jets, 13

The Broncos are giving up too many points—like the 24 they surrendered in a loss to San Diego two weeks ago. Only the relief of playing far from the critics at home will help the Jets.

*Houston, 30—Cleveland, 23

With the APC Central still sorting itself out, this game could be crucial. The difference: Houston's strength is its passing offense, and Cleveland's weakness is its pass defense.

*Kansas City, 21—San Diego, 17

With the help of a 99-yard interception return by Kevin Ross, the Chiefs handled the Chargers easily, 24-10, in the season opener. This one should be a lot more interesting.

*L.A. Rams, 23—Phoenix, 14

Last season's NFC East and West cellar dwellers face off. Phoenix isn't playing any better and the Rams are still struggling, but they should manage to avenge a 24-14 loss in '91.

Miami, 28—Indianapolis, 16

The most unlikely interesting rematch of the week, two weeks after the Colts shocked the Dolphins 31-20. Indy needs a win to be a contender, but a second upset of an angry team is improbable.

Minnesota, 30—Tampa Bay, 14

The Vikings beat the Bucs 26-20 back in September and twice last year. They're steadily improving, and they have no interest in allowing Tampa Bay to fight its way into the playoff picture.

New Orleans, 26—New England, 9

Three years ago the Saints beat the Patriots for the first time ever, 28-24, and they haven't played each other since. New England's offense is anemic, and New Orleans' defense is strong.

*N.Y. Giants, 20—Green Bay, 12

This long rivalry hasn't been rejoined since 1987, when both teams were mediocre at best and the Giants won 20-10. This year it will seem like old times, with N.Y. once again less mediocre.

*Philadelphia, 29—L.A. Raiders, 20

Quick, when was the last time the Raiders won this matchup? Yup, in the 1980 Super Bowl, 27-10. The Eagles have been up and down, and the Raiders down and up. Expect frequent lead changes.

Washington, 32—Seattle, 10

The raucous crowds at the Kingdome used to inspire the Seahawks, but there's been nothing to holler about this season. Seattle's most recent victory over the Redskins was 12 years ago.

San Francisco, 31—Atlanta, 15

(Monday) On the strength of Steve Young's 399 yards of passing in only three quarters, the 49ers pounded the Falcons 56-17 three weeks ago. SF hopes to even the score for its two '91 losses to Atlanta.

THE SEA COAST ECHO—THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1992-1B

A letter from Peru

Uless works with the men of Arca de Noe Church to help distribute 77 pounds of eye glasses donated by First Baptist Church in Bay St. Louis.

Uless poses with two women who received glasses.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following letter was sent to Sea Coast Echo publisher Ellis Cuevas from Uless and Mary Lee Bergeron, missionaries who formerly resided in Bay St. Louis and attended First Baptist Church.

Dear Friends:

October 23, 1992

We have been in Peru new for fifteen months. We live in Lima in an area called Barranco. Nationals refer to Barranco with such adjectives as, "tranquilo, lindo, poetico and romantico." We chose this area to live in because it has some similarities with Bay St. Louis. Even though it is part of the mega-city of Lima, it is like a little resort town full of friendly "hometown" type folks. It also reminds us of the "Bay" because we can smell the salt air of the ocean and watch small fishing boats come into a nearby harbor.

We work in Mariano Melgar, an area which is the exact opposite of Barranco. Mariano Melgar is one of the "peublos juvenes" (like a shanty town) that completely surrounds Lima. The church we serve in is named "Arca de Noe", Noah's Ark, a wonderful name for a church located in the middle of a desert!

Living here has been both exciting and hard. We have experienced many pressures and problems we knew nothing of, to name a few: terrorism, bombings, heavy military presence, barricaded military facilities and police stations, rationed electricity and water, soaring inflation, and millions of jobless people. It is heartbreaking to see malnourished people, people looking in the garbage for food, young adults losing their teeth because of lack of proper diet and dental care, thousands of street children, and the mentally ill roaming and living in the streets.

Please pray for Peru and her people, and when you do, remember to pray for our own beloved country. Pray that the Christian principles on which our nation was built might be upheld and strengthened.

One of the most enjoyable things we have been involved in during the past year was when we served as camp pastors at our Baptist camp in Shiran. Uless worked as a counselor and I did a Bible study twice a day using my flannel board. There were 26 decisions for Christ made that week, which was a great joy. It was also a pleasure to get to know some of our young national leaders and work alongside them during the camp.

Then, we worked with nationals and other missionaries in beginning a new work in Tacna, close to the Chilean border.

A group of volunteers from Texas came down to Cajamarca and we had the privilege of working with them. Over 350 people made professions of faith in Christ during those two weeks.

I (Mary Lee) have been teaching in one of the "talleres" (work shop) in a women's prison in Chorillos for several months.

Uless has been working with the men of Arca de Noe Church. They have built two new sanitary bathrooms, finished a kitchen and have begun work on a sanctuary. It sounds like we have our priorities out of line, a kitchen before the sanctuary, but it has been used for a feeding program.

There is so much more to tell about all the good things the Lord is doing. We are going to be in Bay St. Louis for the month of December and we will wait and tell you in person! Please pray for Santiago and Julia and their four children. They are believers and members of Arca de Noe Church. Santiago worked for eleven years in a jewelry store in one of Lima's downtown hotels. Because of terrorism, Peru has lost her tourist trade, and the owner of the jewelry store has finally had to close his doors. Julia washed clothes by hand to feed the family, but she has been very sick lately and has had difficulty working. Santiago has now been out of work for several months. We are very concerned about them and the stress and strain this is putting on their marriage. Pray for a job for Santiago and for Julia's health.

Also, thank God for Alicia and Sixta, two "hermanas" in the church who have almost nothing but share what they do have with others. Pray for Victoria, a young mother who is malnourished because she gives her portion of food to her children.

Also, please remember us when you go before the King.

Because He loves us,
Uless & Mary Lee Bergeron

PS: SEE YOU IN DECEMBER!!!

Medical Center helps form breast cancer support group

BY TRACI BONNEY
For women who are facing or have been through breast cancer treatments or surgery, having the support of other survivors is vital to their well-being.

Now that support is available through a group forming at Hancock Medical Center, the group will be aided in its formation by American Cancer Society volunteers and hospital staff.

The first meeting will be Tuesday, Nov. 10, 7 p.m. in the HMC meeting room.

At 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, women will meet in the HMC meeting room with HMC nurse, Patricia Hume, and Mary Lee Bergeron, a missionary who has been in Peru for 15 months.

For women who are facing or have been through breast cancer treatments or surgery, having the support of other survivors is vital to their well-being.

A person's breast cancer detection and prevention program has three basic steps: monthly self-examinations, an annual clinical exam and annual mammography for those 40 and older.

The clinical exam is important because sometimes a doctor can detect a lump that you may have missed.

The mammography is an x-ray of the breasts. It is important because it can detect a lump that you may have missed.

specific, such as a lump, tenderness, swelling or discharge.

When taking a mammogram, the technician will usually x-ray two views of women at the breast. The HMC will be lowering its prices on screening mammograms to make them more affordable.

"She asked them to be honest with themselves about their awareness about the danger of breast cancer and how it can be detected and treated early."

She stressed the importance of early detection and treatment, and the need for women to be proactive in their health care.

The group will meet every Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the HMC meeting room. For more information, call Patricia Hume at 336-1234.

- Over 40, every year

MAMMOGRAPHY

OLA observes Mercy Day

Students, faculty and parents of Our Lady Academy joined in prayer and picnic to celebrate Mercy Day.

Mercy Day honors Our Blessed Mother under the title of Our Lady of Mercy and is a major feast day of the Sisters of Mercy, the religious community which serves OLA.

The seventh grade religious studies class presented brief sketches of the life of Catherine McAuley, the founder of the sisters of Mercy, and the spread of her religious community throughout the world.

Catherine McAuley founded the order in 1931 to involve women as religious in the mission of the church in the world—to serve the poor, the sick, and the uneducated.

Today, almost 16,000 sisters belong to nine institutes or federations of Mercy congregations throughout the world.

The Sisters of Mercy arrived in the United States in 1843, led by Sister Frances Warde, and in Mississippi in 1860. At present, 24 Sisters of Mercy work in the Diocese of Biloxi.

The Sisters of Mercy first came to Our Lady Academy and Bay St. Louis in 1982 when Sister Virginia Marasco became principal, followed by Sister Jacqueline Howard during 1985-91. Sister M. Donella Hartman, the present principal of OLA, came in 1991. Sister M. Elisa Bauman has been on the OLA staff since 1986.

Enjoying picnic
